FICTION / ROMANCE

Aditya Mehra - the heart throb of heaven alone knows how many girls! The world knows him as a practical, smart and sagacious boy. Samishtha Bhave - sweet, buoyant but an extreme career-minded. A Diva - but in her own weird way! Romance would be the first predilection in Aditya's life unlike Samishtha who avers every romantic line as 'cheesy'!

And when these two fall in love, a slightly bizarre but remarkable rapport is anticipated. Aditya and Samishtha are deeply in love, crazy about each other since the age of 17. Completely opposite in ideologies and thoughts, there's nothing common between them except the love that they share. With constant arguments that almost always end up in kisses, it is impossible not to fall in love with the lovely couple. Their love is strong enough to help them understand and adjust with each other inspite of the unending differences.

But is their love strong enough to fight against the sudden change that ruins their life?

Will the 11 year old relationship that survived through all the mess, that was successful inspite of being a long-distance one, come to an end? Is the love between them over? Does this mean the end of a beautiful relation or does it simply imply the start of another?
